Safeguarding and Prevent Policy

1. Introduction and Policy Statement

Skills People Group consists of the following companies.

- Construction Skills People

The company recognise its statutory duties towards safeguarding the welfare of Young People (children) and Adults at Risk from any form of abuse whilst undertaking learning programmes. The company will ensure that arrangements are in place to create and maintain a safe working and learning environment. An environment where all reasonable measures are taken to ensure that risks of harm are minimised where concerns are identified, and actions are taken to address them where appropriate.

The company will ensure that all staff and self-employed partners are aware of and understand their statutory responsibilities with respect to safeguarding and are trained in recognising and reporting safeguarding issues.

The company is committed to safeguarding and aims to create a culture of vigilance.

2. Scope

Safeguarding is everyone's responsibility. This policy applies to all staff and self-employed partners conducting onsite and offsite activities with learners, regardless of position, role and responsibilities.

This policy deals with the protection of Young People (children) and Adults at Risk. For the purpose of clarity, any person under the age of 18 is deemed a child, and an adult at risk replaces the previously used term 'vulnerable adult' as set out in the governments 'No Secrets' guidance 2010. The Care Act 2014 defines an adult at risk as a person who has care and support needs and/or is at risk of, being abused or neglected and unable to protect themselves against the abuse or neglect or risk of it because of those needs.

Abuse is a violation of an individual's human and civil rights by any other person or persons. Abuse may consist of a single act or repeated acts. It may be physical, verbal or psychological, it may be an act of neglect or an omission to act, or it may occur when a vulnerable person is persuaded to enter into a financial or sexual transaction to which he or she has not consented or cannot consent. Abuse can occur in any relationship and may result in significant harm to, or exploitation of, the person subjected to it. Source: No Secrets Guidance

3. Objectives

The company aim to ensure that: Appropriate action is taken in a timely manner to safeguard and promote staff and the learner's welfare.

The company will appoint and train a senior board level designated safeguarding lead (DSL) to take leadership responsibility on all safeguarding arrangements (including Prevent).

This policy will be reviewed annually by the designated safeguarding lead and/or deputy lead in line with changes or new legislation and/or regulations.

This policy is to be read in conjunction with the Lone Working, Equality & Diversity and Health & Wellbeing policies.

4. Safeguarding Adults

The Care Act 2014 defines safeguarding as “protecting an adult’s right to live in safety, free from abuse and neglect.” The duties apply in relation to any person who is aged 18 or over and at risk of abuse or neglect because of their needs for care and support.

Types of Abuse and Neglect - Adults

- Physical abuse – including assault, hitting, slapping, pushing, misuse of medication, restraint or inappropriate physical sanctions.
- Domestic violence – including psychological, physical, sexual, financial, emotional abuse; and ‘honour’ based violence (HBV) is a form of domestic abuse which is perpetrated in the name of so called ‘honour-based’ violence.
- Sexual abuse – including rape, indecent exposure, sexual harassment, inappropriate looking or touching, sexual teasing or innuendo, sexual photography, subjection to pornography or witnessing sexual acts, indecent exposure and sexual assault or sexual acts to which the adult has not consented or was pressured into consenting.
- Psychological abuse – including emotional abuse, threats of harm or abandonment, deprivation of contact, humiliation, blaming, controlling, intimidation, coercion, harassment, verbal abuse, cyber bullying, isolation or unreasonable and unjustified withdrawal of services or supportive networks.
- Financial abuse – including theft, fraud, internet scamming, coercion in relation to an adult’s financial affairs or arrangements, including in connection with wills, property, inheritance or financial transactions, or the misuse or misappropriation of property, possessions or benefits. Doorstep crime is also a common form of financial abuse.
- Modern slavery – encompasses slavery, human trafficking, forced labour and domestic servitude. Traffickers and slave masters use whatever means they have at their disposal to coerce, deceive and force individuals into a life of abuse, servitude and inhumane treatment.
- Discriminatory abuse – including forms of harassment, slurs or similar treatment; because of race, gender and gender identity, age, disability, sexual orientation or religion
- Organisational abuse – including neglect and poor care practice within an institution or specific care setting such as a hospital or care home, for example, or in relation to care provided in one’s own home. This may range from one off incidents to on-going ill-treatment. It can be through neglect or poor professional practice as a result of the structure, policies, processes and practices within an organisation.
- Neglect and acts of omission – including ignoring medical, emotional or physical care needs, failure to provide access to appropriate health, care and support or educational services, the withholding of the necessities of life, such as medication, adequate nutrition and heating. Neglect also includes not being provided with enough food or with the right kind of food or taken proper care of.
- Self-neglect – this covers a wide range of behaviour neglecting to care for one’s personal hygiene, health or surroundings and includes behaviour such as hoarding

5. Safeguarding Young People (children)

A child is someone who has not yet reached their 18th birthday. Once they turn 18, they are legally an adult.

Indicators of Abuse and Neglect - Children

- Abuse is a form of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm or by failing to act to prevent harm. Children may be abused in a family, institutional or community setting by those known to them or, more rarely, by others. Abuse can take place wholly online, or technology may be used to facilitate offline abuse. Children may be abused by an adult or adults or by another child or children.
- Physical abuse a form of abuse which may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.
- Emotional abuse the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning or preventing the child from participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyberbullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, although it may occur alone.
- Sexual abuse involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving a high level of violence, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse. Sexual abuse can take place online, and technology can be used to facilitate offline abuse. Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children.
- Neglect the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy, for example, as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to: provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment); protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger; ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate care-givers); or ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment. It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

- Serious Violence may signal that children are at risk from or are involved with serious violent crime. These may include: increased absence, a change in friendships or relationships with older individuals or groups, a significant decline in performance, signs of self-harm, significant change in wellbeing, signs of assault or unexplained injuries. Unexplained gifts or new possessions could also indicate that children have been approached by, or are involved with, individuals associated with criminal networks or gangs.
 - Sexual violence and sexual harassment can occur between two or more children of any age and sex, from primary through to secondary stage and into college. It can occur also through a group of children sexually assaulting or sexually harassing a single child or group of children. Sexual violence and sexual harassment exist on a continuum and may overlap; they can occur online and face-to-face (both physically and verbally) and are never acceptable.

Child-on-child abuse is most likely to include, but may not be limited to:

- bullying (including cyberbullying, prejudice-based and discriminatory bullying)
- abuse in intimate personal relationships between children (sometimes known as ‘teenage relationship abuse’)
- physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm (this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages physical abuse)
- sexual violence, such as rape, assault by penetration and sexual assault; (this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages sexual violence)
- sexual harassment,¹⁰ such as sexual comments, remarks, jokes and online sexual harassment, which may be standalone or part of a broader pattern of abuse
- causing someone to engage in sexual activity without consent, such as forcing someone to strip, touch themselves sexually, or to engage in sexual activity with a third party
- consensual and non-consensual sharing of nude and semi-nude images and/or videos¹¹ (also known as sexting or youth produced sexual imagery)
- upskirting,¹² which typically involves taking a picture under a person’s clothing without their permission, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress, or alarm, and
- initiation/hazing type violence and rituals (this could include activities involving harassment, abuse or humiliation used as a way of initiating a person into a group and may also include an online element).

- Harmful Sexual Behaviour sexual behaviours expressed by children and young people under the age of 18 years old that are developmentally inappropriate, may be harmful towards self or others, or abusive towards another child, young person or adult. (DfE definition)

The company recognise that learners with special educational needs (SEN) and disabilities can face additional safeguarding challenges and as such additional barriers can exist when recognising abuse and neglect within this group.

6. So-called 'honour-based' violence (including Female Genital Mutilation and Forced Marriage)

Female Genital Mutilation (FGM)

Female genital mutilation (FGM) is a procedure where the female genitals are deliberately cut, injured or changed, but where there's no medical reason for this to be done. It's also known as "female circumcision" or "cutting", and by other terms such as sunna, gudniin, halalays, tahur, megrez and khitan, among others.

There are four main types of FGM:

- Type 1 (clitoridectomy) – removing part or all of the clitoris.
- Type 2 (excision) – removing part or all of the clitoris and the inner labia (lips that surround the vagina), with or without removal of the labia majora (larger outer lips).
- Type 3 (infibulation) – narrowing of the vaginal opening by creating a seal, formed by cutting and repositioning the labia.
- Other harmful procedures to the female genitals, including pricking, piercing, cutting, scraping or burning the area.

Signs, Symptoms and Effects of FGM

A girl or woman who has had FGM may;

- Have difficulty walking, sitting or standing;
- Spend longer than normal on the bathroom or toilet;
- Have unusual behaviour after an absence;
- Be particularly reluctant to undergo normal medical examinations;
- Ask for help but may not be explicit about the problem due to embarrassment or fear.

What to look out for before FGM happens

A girl at immediate risk of FGM may not know what's going to happen. But she might talk about;

- Being taken 'home' for a visit;
- A special occasion to 'become a woman';
- An older female relative visiting the UK.

If the delivery/enrolment team in the course of their work in the profession, discovers that an act of FGM appears to have been carried out on a girl under the age of 18, this must be reported to the police.

The practice is illegal in the UK and is classed as child abuse. It is also illegal to arrange for a young person to be taken abroad for FGM to find out more about Female Genital Mutilation: <https://www.nspcc.org.uk/preventing-abuse/child-abuse-and-neglect/female-genital-mutilation-fgm/>

Forced Marriage

Forced marriage is a marriage performed without the full and free consent of one or both parties. Emotional, financial, physical and sexual threats and abuse, as well as notions of 'honour', can all be used to force someone to marry. Forced marriage can lead to physical violence, rape and even murder. <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/forced-marriage>

The pressure put on people to marry against their will may be:

- Physical – for example, threats, physical violence or sexual violence.
- Emotional and psychological – for example, making someone feel like they are bringing 'shame' on their family.

Contact the Forced Marriage Unit (FMU) if you're trying to stop a forced marriage or you need help leaving a marriage you've been forced into.

7. Domestic Abuse

The Company is committed to developing a safe workplace and learning environment by implementing a culture in which there is zero tolerance for abuse and which recognises that the responsibility for domestic abuse lies with the perpetrator. The Company is also committed to ensuring that any employee who is the victim of domestic abuse has the right to raise the issue in the knowledge that they will receive appropriate support and assistance. This policy also covers the approach we will take where there are concerns that an employee may be the perpetrator of domestic abuse.

By increasing awareness and implementing a strong supportive culture, we will create a safer workplace and learning environment for both staff and learners.

In line with the Company policies, Skills People Group will not discriminate against anyone who has been subjected to domestic abuse in terms of current employment or future development and seeks to benefit the welfare of individual members of staff; retain valued employees; improve morale and performance.

Under the Health and Safety at Work Act (1974) and the Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations (1992), we recognise our legal responsibilities in promoting the welfare and safety of all staff.

Definitions

Controlling behaviour is: a range of acts designed to make a person subordinate and/or dependent by isolating them from sources of support, exploiting their resources and capacities for personal gain, depriving them of the means needed for independence, resistance and escape and regulating their everyday behaviour.

Coercive behaviour is: an act or a pattern of acts of assault, threats, humiliation and intimidation or other abuse that is used to harm, punish, or frighten their victim.

Signs

Whilst it is important for the individual themselves to recognise they are a victim of domestic abuse, there are signs which may indicate an employee may be a victim. These may include;

Psychological signs

- Personality changes (eg an outgoing person becomes withdrawn)
- Obsession with time
- Anxious at work
- May exhibit fearful behavior such as startled reactions
- References to partner's anger

Physical signs

- Frequent and / or sudden / unexpected medical problems / sickness absences
- Change in the way the employee dresses (i.e excessive clothing in the summer)
- Unexplained injuries

Other signs

- Avoiding lunch breaks
- Frequent isolation at work

Managers and Team Leaders are responsible for conducting regular 1-2-1 meetings with staff and return to work interviews when an employee returns to work following a period of sickness. Managers who have direct reports of staff members who are either working from home or remotely are to have regular contact with their staff in line with the Lone Working policy and are to report any signs / disclosures in line with this policy.

Managers / Supervisors who support staff in such matters should address the issue positively and sympathetically ensuring that the employee is aware that support and assistance can be provided.

Disclosure & Support

Skills People Group recognise that developing a life free from abuse is a process not an event and we will provide ongoing support for employees who disclose abuse. The level of support required will be discussed and reasonable adjustments will be made accordingly. Other existing external provisions (including occupational health and independent counselling services) will also be signposted to staff as a means of support.

All disclosures / concerns of domestic abuse made by an employee to another employee and / or their line manager are to be referred to a Safeguarding Officer and / or a Mental Health First Aider for support and subsequently the HR Team. Actions will be taken to increase their personal safety at work and at home as well as address any risks there may be to colleagues.

All disclosures / concerns of domestic abuse made by a learner to a member of staff or another learner are to be referred to a Safeguarding Officer so actions can be taken to increase their personal safety.

Contact information of Mental Health First Aiders and Safeguarding Officers are detailed in this policy.

Perpetrators of domestic abuse

Domestic abuse perpetrated by employees will not be condoned under any circumstances. Staff members are expected at all times to present high standards of personal integrity and conduct that will not reflect adversely on the organisation and its reputation. If an employee approaches a colleague or line manager about their own abusive behaviour, HR are to be subsequently informed. Information about services and support available will be made accessible.

We will treat any allegation, disclosure or conviction of a domestic abuse related offence on a case by case basis with the aim of reducing risk and supporting change.

There may be signs that an employee is perpetrating domestic abuse. These may include:

- Uncharacteristic late/absent behaviour with no explanation
- Repeated injuries/scratches/bite marks/bruised knuckles/injuries to wrists and forearms
- Uncharacteristic moods and depression
- An obsession with time and an avoidance of socialising
- Constant text messaging or telephoning a partner
- Jealousy or possessiveness

- Increase in substance use/dependence

In cases where both the victim and the perpetrator of domestic abuse work in the organisation, the Company will take appropriate action. In addition to considering disciplinary action against the employee who is perpetrating the abuse, measures may need to be taken to ensure that the victim and perpetrator do not come into contact in the workplace. Please refer to the Company's disciplinary policy for further details.

8. Specific Safeguarding issues

Safeguarding issues can manifest themselves via learner on learner abuse. Staff should be aware that learners are capable of abusing other learners. This is most likely to include, but may not be limited to:

- Bullying (including cyberbullying);
- Physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm;
- Sexual violence such as rape, assault by penetration and sexual assault;
- Sexual harassment, such as sexual comments, remarks, jokes and online sexual harassment, which may be stand-alone or part of a broader pattern of abuse;
- Upskirting, which typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing without them knowing. It is now a criminal offence.
- Sexting (also known as youth produced sexual imagery) and;
- Initiation/hazing type violence and rituals.

Learner on learner abuse is unacceptable and will be recorded and investigated accordingly in line with this policy. Abuse is abuse and should never be tolerated or passed off as "banter", "just having a laugh" or "part of growing up".

The company is committed to responding to all concerns about staff and learners in relation to any form of abuse or welfare concerns. This includes any form of learner on learner abuse, harassment or bullying, including cyber bullying.

9. Contextual Safeguarding

Safeguarding concerns, incidents and/or behaviours can be associated with factors outside of the company. Staff must consider the wider context in which incidents and behaviour occurs. This is known as contextual safeguarding, which means that assessments of learners must consider wider environmental factors that are present in the learners' life that are a threat to their safety and welfare.

10. Online Safety

The use of technology has become a significant component of many safeguarding issues. Child exploitation; radicalisation; sexual predation; technology often provides the platform that facilitates harm.

The breadth of issues classified within online safety is considerable, but can be categorised into three areas of risk:

- Content: being exposed to illegal, inappropriate or harmful material; for example, pornography, fake news, racist or radical and extremist views;
- Contact: being subjected to harmful online interaction with other users; for example, commercial advertising as well as adults posing as children or young adults;
- Conduct: personal online behaviour that increases the likelihood of, or causes harm; for example, making, sending and receiving explicit images or online bullying.

Worried about online sexual abuse or the way someone has been communicating to you online?

Make a report to CEOP's Child Protection Advisors <https://www.ceop.police.uk/safety-centre>
CEOP helps any child or young people under the age of 18 who is being pressured, forced or tricked into part in sexual activity of any kind. This can be something that has taken place either online or in 'the real world', or both. The CEOP Safety Centre has clear information and advice on what can be reported to CEOP, the reporting process and what will happen if you do decide to make a report.

11. Prevent

The Prevent statutory duty requires local authorities, schools, colleges, higher education institutions, health bodies, prisons and probation, and the police to consider the need to safeguard people from being drawn into terrorism. It sits alongside long-established duties on professionals to safeguard vulnerable people from exploitation from a range of other harms such as drugs, gangs and physical and sexual exploitation.

Protecting learners from radicalisation is part of the wider safeguarding duties of teachers, tutors and academics.

The Governments Counter Terrorism Strategy CONTEST' overarching aim is to reduce the risk to the UK and its Citizens and interests overseas from terrorism, so that people can go about their lives freely and with confidence.

The governments approach to the CONTEST strategic framework is made up of the four 'P' approach:

- Prevent: to stop people becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism
- Pursue: to stop terrorist attacks
- Protect: to strengthen our protection against a terrorist attack
- Prepare: to mitigate the impact of a terrorist attack

Of the four Ps' approach Prevent is at its heart to safeguard and support vulnerable people to stop them from becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism.

The objectives of Prevent are to:

- Tackle the causes of radicalisation and respond to the ideological challenge of terrorism.
- Safeguard and support those most at risk of radicalisation through early intervention, identifying them and offering support.
- Enable those who have already engaged in terrorism to disengage and rehabilitate.

The government expects educational institutions to encourage learners to respect other people with particular regard to understand the factors that make people vulnerable to being drawn into terrorism and to challenge extremist ideas which are used by terrorist groups and can purport to legitimise terrorist activity.

The Prevent statutory duty encourages free speech and open debate as one of our most powerful tools in promoting critical thinking and preventing terrorist and extremist narratives taking hold.

Children are vulnerable to extremist ideology and radicalisation. Similar to protecting children from other forms of harms and abuse, protecting children from this risk should be a part of a schools' or colleges' safeguarding approach.

There is no single way of identifying whether a child is likely to be susceptible to an extremist ideology. Background factors combined with specific influences such as family and friends may contribute to a child's vulnerability. Similarly, radicalisation can occur through many different methods (such as social media) and settings (such as the internet).

The company recognises that any learner in danger of radicalisation or demonstrating extremist tendencies (violent or non-violent) is deemed to be vulnerable and appropriate support under the PREVENT strategy or through CHANNEL will be sought.

Prevent is an integral part of the Safeguarding and must be reported in accordance with this procedure.

Definitions

Safeguarding in terms of Prevent is the process of protecting vulnerable people, whether from crime, other forms of abuse or from being drawn into terrorist related activity.

- Vulnerability describes the condition of being capable of being injured; difficult to defend; open to moral or ideological attack. Within Prevent, the word describes factors and characteristics associated with being susceptible to radicalisation.
 - Radicalisation refers to the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and extremist ideologies associated with terrorist groups.
 - Ideology is a set of beliefs
 - Extremism The government defines extremism in the Prevent strategy as: “vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs. We also include in the definition of extremism calls for the death of members of our armed forces, whether in this country or overseas.” (HM Government Prevent Strategy)
 - Prevent is an integral part of the government’s counter-terrorism strategy, CONTEST. Prevent tackles non-violent extremism where it creates an environment conducive to terrorism and popularises ideas that are espoused by terrorist groups.
 - Channel is a programme which focuses on providing support at an early stage to people who are identified as being vulnerable to being drawn into terrorism. The programme uses a multi-agency approach to protect vulnerable people by: identifying individuals at risk. assessing the nature and extent of that risk.
